

AISVIEW

Android AIS navigation app

With over 1m Android devices activated daily, it's the world's leading mobile platform but, up until now, supported remarkably few marine navigation apps. Digital Yacht have just changed that with the introduction of AISView – an AIS viewing application for Android tablets and phones compatible with our NMEA to wireless servers, AIS USB products and NMEA-USB adaptor. Read about it inside...

Digital Update July 2014 Now Out

Digital Update is Digital Yacht's regular monthly newsletter to keep you abreast of the latest developments in marine electronics.

The July 2014 edition is now out and features information on AISView - our new Android based AIS viewing app which supports real time updates. See how to integrate an Android tablet into the boat's AIS system via wifi or USB and take advantage of Android's phenomenal sales success and penetration into the tablet market.

We also spotlight NavLink MAC - a new full featured charting application for MAC based PCs - turn your MacBook into a full function navigation system with detailed charts, real time positioning, routing and tracking. It also supports an AIS target layer via Digital Yacht's USB or WiFi interfaces and integration with the NavLink iOS app. Available now for the US and coming soon for UK and Europe
